Entity-relationship diagram

The database behind the commuter, conductor and admin apps, drawn from the live MySQL schema after all migrations ran on 2026-10-25.

48
app tables

86
foreign keys enforced by MySQL

6
domains, one page each

How to read the diagrams

Box	One table. The navy header is the table name. Each row is key · column · type.
Columns shown	Every primary, foreign and unique key, plus the business columns that explain what the table holds (status, amounts, names, key dates). Routine timestamps and secondary fields are left out to keep the pages readable.
Keys	PK primary key · FK foreign key · UK unique · ref an id that points at another table in application code only (no database constraint, so no line is drawn).
?	The column can be NULL.
Types	uuid = char(36) · bool = tinyint(1) · money is decimal(10,2).
Lines	Database-enforced foreign keys, drawn from the FK column to the column it references. Crow's-foot ends: || exactly one · o| zero or one · o< zero or many.
Dashed box	A table from another domain, shown with its key only so cross-domain links stay visible.

Laravel framework tables (cache, cache_locks, jobs, job_batches, failed_jobs, sessions, migrations) are not shown.

00 Table index

All 48 tables by domain, with how many columns each has and which tables it references through a foreign key. The domain number matches its diagram page.
